

To conclude our unit on Astronomy, which has focused on how we can know if objects in space will collide, we will be watching the movie Deep Impact. The movie is rated PG-13 for “Intense Disaster Related Elements and Brief Language.” We will be muting the stronger language so it will be more equivalent to a PG rating in terms of language, although the disaster related elements will remain. At the conclusion of the video, students will write a short essay analyzing the scientific elements of the plot, comparing and contrasting them to what they learned during the astronomy unit. Students who opt out of watching the video will do an astronomy related independent study in the media center that also concludes with a short essay. Please contact me at jonm.dyer@cms.k12.nc.us if you have any questions or would like further information before making a decision.

Please check one of the following and sign below:

_____ I do give my child, _____, permission to watch Deep Impact.

_____ I do NOT give my child, _____, permission to watch Deep Impact.

_____ (parent signature)

To conclude our unit on Astronomy, which has focused on how we can know if objects in space will collide, we will be watching the movie Deep Impact. The movie is rated PG-13 for “Intense Disaster Related Elements and Brief Language.” We will be muting the stronger language so it will be more equivalent to a PG rating in terms of language, although the disaster related elements will remain. At the conclusion of the video, students will write a short essay analyzing the scientific elements of the plot, comparing and contrasting them to what they learned during the astronomy unit. Students who opt out of watching the video will do an astronomy related independent study in the media center that also concludes with a short essay. Please contact me at jonm.dyer@cms.k12.nc.us if you have any questions or on like further information before making a decision.

Please check one of the following and sign below:

_____ I do give my child, _____, permission to watch Deep Impact.

_____ I do NOT give my child, _____, permission to watch Deep Impact.

_____ (parent signature)